

Good evening, my name is Theresa Crescitelli and I live at 1336 Enfield St. I am not going to talk about reasons why the zone change should not happen because my neighbors and friends have done the research and eloquently presented those reasons.

What I ask of you is that you look at this little band of citizens who live in the historic district. Really look at them. Do you see fear and sadness in knowing if you vote for the zone change the Historic District will be forever changed? We, who live on South Road, Enfield Street and Post Office Road are well aware that our area has more traffic than other neighborhoods. We accept this because of our love of antique homes and the character and charm of the historic district. We do not need the increase in traffic if the zone change is approved. Because of a line drawn around the project we are now non abutters, as if we don't matter. We know that we are abutters and we do matter.

My husband and I bought an antique home that was in much need of repair and love; we have been working on our property to make it an asset to not only the Historic District but the town of Enfield, as well.

We are just a group of residents who do not have the deep pockets of Community Builders to hire an attorney to represent us. All research has been done by us and presented by us. Many of us are not comfortable speaking in public but we have stepped up because we matter and our voices need to be heard.
